The Sisterhood Dinner celebrates the contributions and accomplishments of North Carolina State University women. It was originally called the Susan B. Anthony Dinner but was changed in 1999 to the Sisterhood Dinner to encompass all aspects of the achievements of women. This year, join us as we welcome keynote speaker Dr. Ruth Dial Woods, a North Carolina educator, activist and first Native American woman to serve on the UNC Board of Governors.

To register for an individual seat or table at the Sisterhood Dinner, please visit go.ncsu.edu/sisterhoodregistration
Cost: $280/table or $35/individual

The Equity for Women Awards is an important part of the Sisterhood Dinner. This award is made annually to recognize faculty, staff and students for their outstanding leadership in establishing equity for women at NC State.

Nominations are solicited from all members of the campus community, including faculty, staff, students, alumni and partners. If you know a deserving candidate, find additional information and the nomination form at go.ncsu.edu/equityawards.
