The Eleventh Annual African Diaspora Film Festival
Journeys of Discovery: Love, War and Politics

1. Apocalypse Africa Made in America
   Oct. 1
   After World War II, when new leadership across Africa established democratic governments and were on the way to prosperity, the issues emerged that changed the course of the continent. This documentary focuses on how American policies contributed to this change. Dir: Del Waters.

2. Sleepwalking Land
   Oct. 8
   Set during the Mozambiquen Civil War, this feature film focuses on Muidinga, a fragile boy, whose only wish is to find his family. On his quest to find family and home, his only assistance comes in the form of a storyteller and a dead man’s diary. This is a beautiful story of love and triumph in a time of war. [Portuguese with English subtitles]. Dir.: Teresa Prata

3. Night Catches Us
   Oct. 22
   Starring Kerry Washington and Anthony Mackie, Night Catches Us is a story of homecoming for a man who returns to his neighborhood in Philadelphia, a place where he came of age during the Black Power Movement, and the place from which he has been mysteriously missing. Dir: Tanya Washington

   Oct. 29
   As a 19 year old Black Panther activist, Charlotte “Mama C” O’Neal, left with her husband to live for 32 years in exile in Tanzania. Raised in Kansas City, KS, this African American singer, poet, artist and sculptor has redefined her life in a compound in Tanzania where she has both changed and changed the community in which she lives.

5. An African Election
   Nov. 5
   The 2008 presidential election in Ghana, West Africa, serves as a backdrop for this feature documentary that looks behind-the-scenes at the complex, political machinery of an African democracy in a time of transition. The film is focused on the election of Pres. John Ata Mills, the only sitting president in Ghanaian history to die in office.

The African Diaspora Film Festival is free and open to the public. All films will begin at 7 PM at the Campus Cinema, located in the Witherspoon Student Center at 2810 Cates Avenue on the NC State University campus. Discussions led by various Africana Studies faculty will follow each screening.
